19.14 Maximum due process concerns any disciplinary action, which affects an individual's participation in more than one practice or event. Written notice of a disciplinary hearing shall be provided to the accused. The notice will include the place and time of the hearing. This notice will also include a statement of the specific violation, which if deemed accurate by the NMJW Board, would justify disciplinary action. The hearing will be conducted by a minimum of three members of the NMJW Board of Directors (the number of members will remain an odd number to prevent a tie). No one involved in the specific violation leading to disciplinary action shall be involved with conducting the hearing. The hearing decision will be formed by a majority vote. The hearing shall be an adversarial hearing. The accused shall be permitted to present evidence and witnesses, and examine the evidence and witnesses presented against him or her. Any admission of guilt shall constitute a sufficient body of evidence to justify disciplinary action. A taped record of the hearing shall be made and kept by NMJW. A copy of the taped record of the hearing and a written copy of the findings shall be provided to the accused if requested. In the event that the findings of the hearing committee are averse to the accused, the accused shall have the right to appeal the decision at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the NMJW Board. At the request of the accused, or the President of NMJW, the appeal may be made before an appeal board appointed by the NMJW Board, at a time and/or place other than the regularly scheduled board meeting. Administration fees accrued during this due process hearing will be forwarded to the accused if deemed necessary.
